Reasons for Secrecy.

The American party send delegates to State Councils, and these delegates shut themselves up in a room with a door-keeper, and after a day or two's private pow-wow, the brethren outside, and the public generally, are amused with the publication of the result in a series of pamphlets, pamphlets. What was proposed in that secret conclude, what was discussed, what dissensions occurred, the faithful are not allowed to know. There is a reason for this; doors are not closed without a motive. Something is to be said or done that it will not do to speak out in the broad light of day. The very secrecy observed shows that publicity is inexpedient. The managers don't want the people to see and hear all they have to do and say. We noticed the other day their entire silence on the Dred Scott case; it did not appear in their resolutions; no illusion to it could be discovered. There was a resolution tolerating free expression of opinion, but demanding precedence for Americanism. Of course there were some free opinions expressed in the secret council; and it was found necessary to tolerate free expressions; and this is the reason of the resolution that were an absurd look to outsiders. Rumor says the Dred Scott decision was denounced and defended; that the brethren got fierce and excited, but could not act without explosion; and so they agreed to differ.

Now, will the brethren dare to go out before the people with this dissension? Will they dare to take one side or the other? Lay this matter before the masses, and they will appreciate its importance at once. They will not allow it to be blotted out of sight by political managers. It involves the great practical question that has employed the deepest attention and anxiety of our greatest statesmen.

The Supreme Court has ratified the interpretation of the Constitution given by the Democratic party North and South, much to the relief of the South. Here is a party, however, that have no opinions on this subject. They conceal their differences, and propose to be on both sides, tolerating free expression of opinion, but not allowing any subject to take precedence of Americanism. See, when a great issue, involving the safety of the Union, is on hand, this faction will go a fishing for minnows!

In the mean time, they first resolve about the slavery question; make it the substance of their vague platitudes, while they resolve that Americanism shall have precedence. Fortunately, the people of this country have more sense. They will first dispose of subjects of the most practical importance, and nothing will divert them from this sensible and patriotic course.

The Americans will not all be led, even by party, to neglect the great interest of the country that staves them in the face, to preserve a mean, insignificant trifle. They will be apt to inquire what was the matter of a day or two's controversy; if, indeed, the brethren did decline to approve a decision of the Supreme Court in the Dred Scott case, and thus give aid and comfort to the Black Republican party; if they are preparing to join the Black Republican party in due season; if in their private room they were concocting ways and means to sell out to the Black Republican party. These are important questions. We see in the free States a union of the Americans and self-styled Republicans in all the late elections—a union formally made; and in the party in Kentucky to be secretly transferred to the party on the other side of the river? No wonder the brethren act in secret, with such an end in view; and this entire lack of any allusion to the late decision of the Supreme Court, is ominous. Outsiders had better inquire into it, if they don't wish to be sold.

Up The Indiana Journal, the organ of the Republican party, coolly remarks—

"We are anxious for the success of any strategy for an extra session of the Legislature. There has been nothing developed, so far, that could make any Republicans."

It appears that the Republican party don't care what becomes of the deaf, dumb, blind and insane; what becomes of the State credit, or any other interest. The great object that led to the neglect of all public business, was the expulsion of a Democrat from a contested seat.

It was not sufficient that they were allowed to admit three Republicans elected manifestly by fraud; that they had expelled one Democrat on a trifling, or at least a very doubtful point; but the same high-handed disregard of justice, they must oust another or no bills for the great interests of the State should pass. If a party could not get its last victim, the State should be embarrassed and disgraced. The Republicans have no reason to urge an extra session of the Legislature! Well, we don't suppose they have. The interest of the State is no reason with them; and if the Governor should call a session, there is no probability that the Black Republican Senate would do otherwise than they did last winter.

It is a matter of grave responsibility in an executive to call an extra session of the Legislature. It involves a cost of many thousands to the State, and if he has no assurance that the work is to be done, why should he act? Let the people call upon their representatives, if they want the State disengaged. The Governor is powerless, except to call the Legislature together, and he is not to blame for waiting until he sees some prospect that the work required will be accomplished.

It seems, now, that a majority of the Senate don't wish an extra session; they see no reason to urge it. Very well; let them proclaim that to the people of the State; let it be understood that the Black Republican party of the State see nothing so far that would make any Republican urge an extra session.

The Hon. Garrett Davis writes a letter to the Mt. Sterling Whig, in response to a suggestion in his behalf for the United States Senate. Mr. D. does not seek the office, but he is in the way; so the office will not have a wild hunt after him. He says that "if a foreign Democrat should be elected to the United States Senate he would be struck with poignant sorrow." We assure him that we shall take great pleasure in his sorrow.

Squatter Sovereigns. The Kansas Legislature, in the exercise of its power, to prescribe the following qualifications for a voter who shall cast his suffrage for a delegate to the Constitutional Convention:

"He who is a bona fide inhabitant of the Territory, being a citizen of the United States for one year, and who shall have resided three months in the same county in which he proposes to vote, and no other person whatsoever, shall be entitled to vote at said election."

The lecturer looked very serious over the matter, but we don't know that he shed any tears; and he left out that part about the gravity of the press, if, indeed, it ever was in the lecture; so we were disappointed somewhat in the most pointed condemnations of himself that we expected.

The lecturer had withdrawn, checked the speed of his horse, put on his blankets and walked along the road a distance of eleven miles, until reaching the outskirts of Utica, where he received information of the arrival of Mr. Dalton's horse, being very much refreshed, had again been put upon the road, and was coming along at a good pace.

Mr. Taylor, upon observing that Mr. Dalton had withdrawn, checked the speed of his horse, and started off at a rapid pace passing through Utica at 4 o'clock, and forty-five minutes, about two miles ahead of the Dalton horse, and reached Whitesboro at 5 o'clock and twenty-two minutes, having accomplished the entire distance of one hundred miles in twelve hours and twenty-two minutes! after having walked eleven miles of the distance! The Dalton horse, however reaching Whitesboro was checked and was slow.

Both horses started from Gallop's Hotel, Washington street, yesterday morning at 5 o'clock, according to the Judge's time.

The start was good, both horses coming up at the word nearly side by side. After leaving the pavement they increased their speed, the horses very much animated and manifesting a desire to travel.

At 6 o'clock they passed through Schenectady, 14 miles from the city, and at 7 o'clock, 30 miles from the city, we passed at 9 o'clock, and 20 minutes. Poult, 45 miles from Utica, in excellent condition, and neither appearing to be tired from the task they had already accomplished. Fort Plain, 60 miles from this city, was reached at 10 o'clock and 45 minutes, the horses having traveled full 10 miles per hour up to this point. Little Falls, 73 miles from this city, was passed at 12 o'clock, and Herkimer, 80 miles from this city, at 12 o'clock and 50 minutes.

The horses at this time, although they showed signs of being somewhat tired, were to all appearance in good condition to accomplish the remaining twenty miles, and passed Ilion, 82½ miles from this city, at 1 o'clock and 10 minutes.

Soon after leaving this place, the Dalton horse began to flag, and his driver noticing it, concluded to stay his progress, and on reaching Frankfort, 10 miles from this city, stopped and remained in the stable, which was given every attention that could possibly be given to him. Mr. Miller, Professor of Obstetrics, University of Louisville.

Gregory & Connell, SAW MILL AND LATH MANUFACTORY,

Corner of Fulton and Floyd Streets, LOUISVILLE, KY.

HAVE IN SUCCESSFUL OPERATION one of TOM'S IMPROVED LATH-CUTTERS, capable of manufacturing 5000 Laths daily.

A saw mill is now always to be had at the saw mill, and Mr. Holman, 100 Main Street, between Preston and Jackson, apd 25.

Note.

I HAVE APPPOINTED WILLIAM LOGAN CLARK DEPUTY SURVEYOR of the port of Louisville, for the purpose of advertising his services to all persons who may be in need of his services.

Mr. D. does not seek the office, but he is in the way; so the office will not have a wild hunt after him. He says that "if a foreign Democrat should be elected to the United States Senate he would be struck with poignant sorrow."

We assure him that we shall take great pleasure in his sorrow.

Office—It appears from the records of this office, that to satisfy all the boundary and warrants issued under the various laws since their passage up to the 31st March last, it will require 58,324,222 acres of the public lands.

Of the above amount upwards of 50,000,000 acres of land have been allowed under acts approved on or subsequent to the 11th February, 1847.

Louis Martin, for drunkenness and abuse of his family, was sent to the work-house six months, yesterday, from the Police Court.

Dr. S. M. Ogden, of Pittsburg, has been appointed the appointment of surgeon in the army of the Mexican republic.

Mary McCorklin, a very old woman, was sent to the work-house yesterday by Judge Johnston for two months.

Louisville Democrat.

THURSDAY.....APRIL 9, 1857.

Personal.

—George Blanchard, Esq., has just returned from a business tour to the east. We are in debt to him for New York papers in advance of the mails.

—Our staunch Democratic friend Dobyn, from the "Postle" of Indiana, was in the city yesterday.

—The Rev. Dr. Adler was inaugurated on Saturday morning as Rabbi of the Temple of Emanuel, in Twelfth street, New York. Dr. Adler assumes the position left vacant by the decease of the Rev. Dr. Merzbacher, who officiated for twelve years in that synagogue with distinguished ability. Dr. Adler has a high European reputation, and is the author of several valuable works on doctrinal points in the Jewish Church.

—Mr. W. H. Reeves, the tenor singer, who came here from England some ten years ago with Madame Anna Bishop, and has since been attached to several English opera companies in New York city on Friday, of drops on the brain. Mr. Reeves leaves a wife and three children in very destitute circumstances. He was a brother of the great tenor singer Reeves.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Calvert, one of the oldest residents of Prince George's county, Md., died last week at Mount Airy, her residence in the county, aged 77 years. She was the relic of the late Major Henry Calvert, who was the elder son of Benjamin Calvert, of Mount Airy, and grandson of Charles, the sixth Lord Baltimore. The Advocate says she was a lady of the old school, retaining to the last the habits and manners of days long past, and enjoying the esteem and respect of a large acquaintance.

—W. K. Bosley, Esq., has been re-elected Captain of the Independent Guelph Greys, or Cincinnati.

—It is said that ex-President Pierce, by avoiding extravagance in the Executive Mansion, during his term, retires with one-half of his four years salary in his pocket.

—R. Logan Wickliffe is called upon in the Bandstand Gazette to become the Democratic candidate for the Senate in the district composed of Nelson, Bullitt, and Larue. Wm. B. Reed seems to be the choice of Larue for the place. They are both good Democrats, however, and either would doubtless be acceptable.

—The other day we were reminded of the ancient picture in which a bunch of grapes was represented with so much detail that the bird came to eat them. Standing before the wine-lover of Hogan & Co., looking at Bingham's great picture, "The Stump-Speaking," we saw approaching a gentleman whom we know to be a successful politician. His eyes were immediately riveted upon the picture, and he said to him, and you will at least meet a clever gentleman, if you don't buy his goods.

—AN ITEM ABOUT THE DEANS.—The New York Post says that Mr. and Mrs. John Dean (the bold boy of a coachman and his bride) have not been in Philadelphia at all, as reported. On Saturday, John was dispatched to a country school with a view to complete his education. His accomplished wife remains with him, whether she returned when John started to school." The Post says: "It was a part of the stipulation entered into by all the parties, in the presence of the court, that for the year to come, as since the marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Dean should have no intercourse with each other, except in presence of friends."

—THE STABBING AFFRAY ON THE STATESMAN.—We have made a telegraphic announcement of the stabbing affray on the steamer Statesman, a short distance above Evansville. Jas. D. Heffernan, the perpetrator of the outrage, was under the influence of delirium from the use of liquor at the time. Six persons were stabbed, among them Mr. B. C. Lepper, the clerk of the boat, and Mrs. Tungate, Thompson, and Burton, passengers; and it is feared that one, whose name we could not learn, will not recover. The others are doing well. The unfortunate man immediately fled from his pursuers, jumped into the river, and was drowned. He leaves a family in New Albany.

—TERRIBLE AND FATAL AFFRAY.—We are pleased to learn, as we do by the messenger of Adams Express, that a steam boiler exploded in the Sentinel office at Indianapolis, which killed a young man named George Homan, and wounded five others. A fine new press, the forms of yesterday's paper, a great quantity of material, and even the building, were very much injured. We did not receive the Sentinel last evening, and presume the publishers are greatly embarrassed. We sincerely sympathize with them in their misfortune.

—IMPORTANT ARREST.—The Cincinnati Commercial of yesterday says that a young man was brought down the river to that place on Tuesday, on the steamer Bostonia, charged with the killing of Edward Hawkins, who, while under an arrest in Estill county, Ky., some ten or twelve days ago for horse-stealing, drew a revolver from the pocket of Sheriff Jones, and shooting the Sheriff and another person, effected his escape. He was caught in a rocky spot about two miles from Rome, Ohio, and started back to Kentucky for trial.

—ARREST OF A MURDERER.—Officer Rust, of the Second-ward police, in company with a gentleman who identified the prisoner, arrested William Little yesterday, in Jefferson street, near Preston. Little is an old felon, from Lexington, and is arrested now for the murder of Wheeler, in Lexington, about a month since. Officer Rust immediately communicated with the Marshal of Lexington, informing him of the arrest, and that officer will arrive here to-day and claim the prisoner.

—J. L. DEPPEN & CO.—The editor of the Bandstand Gazette, while on a recent visit to this city, purchased his wedding suit of Deppen & Co. We presume from the following, in his last paper, that he was pleased with the clothes:

—J. L. Deppen & Co., northeast corner of Fourth and Market street, Louisville, are among the most polite and attentive men we know of. They wait on you as if it were no pleasure than a profit to them. Besides all this, their coats are of the best quality and latest European style.

—THE LANDIS ARRIVED AT THE PORTLAND WHARF.—The Landis arrived here from New Orleans on Monday evening. The principal part of her freight, four hundred tons, was for this port. It consisted of molasses, sugar, and salt. She was detained on the way by heavy fog and storms. She left yesterday afternoon, having made a wedding across the line in Georgia, and probably made to free use of whisky. One of the Fulchers is known to be mortally wounded.

—ROBERT HUKEY, a Cincinnati drunkard, was found lying in Dr. Marshall's hall door on Tuesday, and was sent to the work-house three months by Judge Johnston, yesterday.

—THE MERCHANTS' HOTEL, in Fifth street, by some infirmity in the lease, has been divided, and Mr. Webb has taken one end and Mrs. Lambie the other.

—STEAMER ANTELOPE.—We are indebted to our friend Sage, of the Antelope, for late New Orleans papers and other favors.

A STRIKING IMPROVEMENT.—We were witness yesterday to one of the most novel and striking improvements in machinery that we have ever seen. It is simply an apparatus for the manufacture of plasterers' laths. The machine has capacity to turn out fifty thousand laths per day, and on one occasion when we held the watch, no less than one hundred and thirty-six laths dropped out to the minute. One would suppose that material manufactured so rapidly would be defective, but the laths in question are as perfect and sound as any one could desire. The apparatus with which they are made is called Todd's Improved Lath Cutter, and we believe it is the only one of the kind in operation. Of course, the improvement will enable the proprietors to supply laths at cheaper rates than heretofore, and they can have little or no competition in the trade. The machine we refer to is in operation at Messrs. Gregory & Connel's saw-mill, at the corner of Fulton and Floyd streets, and persons who take an interest in practical improvements should avail themselves of a general invitation to call and see it.

MESSES. G. & C. are experienced and popular gentlemen, and have one of the best constructed and most complete mills in the State, and we commend them highly to all who deal in their line.

—A STRIKE OF LUCK.—A negro man named James Anderson, the property of I. R. Greene, Esq., the attorney, bought a whole ticket in a lottery in this city a day or two ago, which entitled the holder to $30,000. Previous to the drawing he important a young white man to go halves with him, and the young man finally consented, and therefore comes in for $15,000, his share of the prize. The negro indulged ideas of freedom, and Mr. Greene referred him to ex-Chancellor Pirth for a valuation as to his worth and the family of his family, and they are now all free. The residue of the negro's funds has been placed in the hands of Jas. Speed, Esq., as trustee for Anderson. We learn that the fortunate possessor of the other half of the prize was a poor but worthy young man, who had a widowed mother to support; that his name is Thomas, and lives in the upper part of the city. Lotteries are not such bad things, after all.

NATIONAL TRUNK EMPORIUM.—Everything has a beginning, and there was a time when there were no manufacturers of trunks in Louisville, even long after the commencement of our great commercial prosperity. A pioneer in that business was Mr. J. H. McCleary, and he still continues largely in the business, at the corner of Fourth and Main streets, under the National Hotel. Of course, a manufacturer of Mr. McCleary's experience is fully up with every improvement. He keeps a varied and beautiful stock, and has every advantage in the trade calculated to render his articles cheap. His stock is particularly attractive to the ladies, and his dress trunks are a great feature in his sales. Call and see him, and you will at least meet a clever gentleman, if you don't buy his goods.

—AN ITEM ABOUT THE DEANS.—The New York Post says that Mr. and Mrs. John Dean (the bold boy of a coachman and his bride) have not been in Philadelphia at all, as reported. On Saturday, John was dispatched to a country school with a view to complete his education. His accomplished wife remains with him, whether she returned when John started to school." The Post says: "It was a part of the stipulation entered into by all the parties, in the presence of the court, that for the year to come, as since the marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Dean should have no intercourse with each other, except in presence of friends."

—THE STABBING AFFRAY ON THE STATESMAN.—We have made a telegraphic announcement of the stabbing affray on the steamer Statesman, a short distance above Evansville. Jas. D. Heffernan, the perpetrator of the outrage, was under the influence of delirium from the use of liquor at the time. Six persons were stabbed, among them Mr. B. C. Lepper, the clerk of the boat, and Mrs. Tungate, Thompson, and Burton, passengers; and it is feared that one, whose name we could not learn, will not recover. The others are doing well. The unfortunate man immediately fled from his pursuers, jumped into the river, and was drowned. He leaves a family in New Albany.

—TERRIBLE AND FATAL AFFRAY.—We are pleased to learn, as we do by the messenger of Adams Express, that a steam boiler exploded in the Sentinel office at Indianapolis, which killed a young man named George Homan, and wounded five others. A fine new press, the forms of yesterday's paper, a great quantity of material, and even the building, were very much injured. We did not receive the Sentinel last evening, and presume the publishers are greatly embarrassed. We sincerely sympathize with them in their misfortune.

—IMPORTANT ARREST.—The Cincinnati Commercial of yesterday says that a young man was brought down the river to that place on Tuesday, on the steamer Bostonia, charged with the killing of Edward Hawkins, who, while under an arrest in Estill county, Ky., some ten or twelve days ago for horse-stealing, drew a revolver from the pocket of Sheriff Jones, and shooting the Sheriff and another person, effected his escape. He was caught in a rocky spot about two miles from Rome, Ohio, and started back to Kentucky for trial.

—ARREST OF A MURDERER.—Officer Rust, of the Second-ward police, in company with a gentleman who identified the prisoner, arrested William Little yesterday, in Jefferson street, near Preston. Little is an old felon, from Lexington, and is arrested now for the murder of Wheeler, in Lexington, about a month since. Officer Rust immediately communicated with the Marshal of Lexington, informing him of the arrest, and that officer will arrive here to-day and claim the prisoner.

—J. L. DEPPEN & CO.—The editor of the Bandstand Gazette, while on a recent visit to this city, purchased his wedding suit of Deppen & Co. We presume from the following, in his last paper, that he was pleased with the clothes:

—J. L. Deppen & Co., northeast corner of Fourth and Market street, Louisville, are among the most polite and attentive men we know of. They wait on you as if it were no pleasure than a profit to them. Besides all this, their coats are of the best quality and latest European style.

—AFFRAY IN CHATTANOOGA, TENN.—We learn from the Gazette that on Thursday night last an affray came off a few miles from that city, between the Dyers and the Fulchers, in which several were seriously wounded. The parties had been in a wedding across the line in Georgia, and probably made to free use of whisky. One of the Fulchers is known to be mortally wounded.

—MARY DOLAN accused her brother-in-law, John Dolan, in Police Court yesterday, with defaming her character. The case was one of that peculiar character which Judge Johnston could not entertain, and was therefore dismissed.

—AGRICULTURAL VISIT.—Hon. H. F. French, one of the vice presidents of the United States Agricultural Society, is about to sail for Europe, with the especial intention of examining the agriculture of the old world.

(Correspondence of the Louisville Democrat) Meade County.

MESSES. EDITORS: I see in your paper of the 27th inst. a letter from the Hon. J. H. Jewett, under date of 25th ult., announcing himself a candidate for re-election to Congress in this, 5th Congressional district. As one of his constituents, I am pleased to see this determination on his part, because I have thought, and yet think, a re-election is due him, and I now hope it will be accorded to him without opposition from his own party.

It will be remembered that two years ago, when he became a candidate for Congress, he encountered a severe and powerful opposition.

He faltered not. His object was to maintain the best interests and true principles of the Government. It was believed by many that there was a majority against him in the district of over one thousand votes; if so, then how gallantly did he stand up to his antagonist! But the opposition was not so strong. But whether the election was to the extent or not, we hope he overcame a most powerful opposition, and conducted the canvass in the very best interests of the country, and triumphantly upheld and sustained the constitution.

I regard his success as a signal triumph of truth over error, politically considered. No one else then seemed willing to encounter such fierce opposition.

—WHEAT.—In good demand at $100/50.

—COFFEE.—Soybean demand for mess ports on south orders; sales of 200 bbls at $22 50; and 100 bbls at $21 50; small sales of country beans, from wagons, port and mess ports.

—OATS.—Have advanced, with sales at $22 50.

—HIDES.—Dry salted have advanced; sales of 250 from store at $12 50.

—Declined; sales of 250 bbls raw and rectified at $22 50.

—A RECENT TREATY WITH MOROCCO was laid before the House.

The House then disposed of the writs for the new Parliament, returnable on the 30th. The English press, generally, speak favorably of the moderation evinced by Mr. Buchanan in his inaugural address.

—FRANCE.—Accouche received at Paris from the manufacturers of some of the manufacturing towns, are rather favorable.

—COFFEE.—The market for whisky is dull, and declined.

—OATS.—Have advanced to 62c.

—Butter.—The price for butter has advanced to 23c/4d.

—Other articles unchanged.

—FOREIGN MARKETS.
